TROUBLESHOOTERS

Parent Training Program

The Troubleshooters Parent Training Program offers an opportunity to chat, troubleshoot, and train with other parents who have children living with an Autism Spectrum Disorder and/or other behavioural challenges. Each session is facilitated by an ABA-trained Registered Social Worker who will review key concepts and provide practical strategies for implementation of ABA principles at home and in the community. Each session will also feature a question and answer period where parents will have the opportunity to present their individual challenges for discussion.
